Celebration Of Art Week Is Colorful

Brings Many Out-Of-Town Groups To See Exhibit And Window Displays

With big events scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings, Sierra Madre is in the midst of a gay and colorful observance of National Art Week which gives the worldr some idea of the size and importance of its art colony.

Townsfolk found paintings and other art works in tne windows of every business house in the city Monday morning. Many had additional exhibits on the walls inside. All were tne work of members of the local art colony. Members of the committee that arranged the ceelbration had numbered 184 oils and water color paintings and etchings Tuesday afternoon, by the time visitors from surrounding towns had begun to arrive in groups and classes from the schools were brought downtown to see the art display.

Wednesday was the most colorful day of the celebration when the artists sat before their easels in Kersting Court and painted as crowds of interested onlookers saw how it is done. Throughout the week groups from women's clubs and ohter organizations throughout the San Gabriel valley visited the local shops and the city hall which housed the central art exhibit.

A number of votes have already been cast in the contest to determine the most popular painting and the most popular window display. Further ballots may be left at the NEWS office or brought to the Wistaria Vine Gardens the night of the concluding dinner at Wistaria Vine Gardens Saturday evening, November 30th, to which the public is invited.

With city officials and townspeople attending, the dinner is expected to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable ever held here. A cup will be given the merchant having the most attractive art display and a prize to the artist of the best-liked painting. Name of the famous speaker who will appear on the program cannot be announced in advance.

Artists whose work is being shown throughout the town are Vernon Morse, Mabel Stanton, Alfred Dewey, Leslie Wynne, Jr., Catherine Wynne, Dorothy Stoll, B. Ward McIvor, Courtney Miles, Dr. L. L. Krebs, Wesley Nightingale, Myrtle Weese, Ethel Wragg, Helen Narozny, A. Greenlaw, A. L. Suman, Catherine Tuttle and Henry Hawxhurst.

Miniatures are by Ella S. Bush, Daphne Alley and Burnaby Bode. Photographic prints have been contributed by Rudolph Hartman, Gladys Carter, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, Dr. Nathan Jacobs, A. J. Dewey, A. L. Suman, Harry Arnold, Marjorie Black, Emmett Black, Jack Folk, Joe Hinojos, Jean Key, John Shindel, Bernard Wynne, Buel Hartman, G. S. Williams, C. E. Ware, Charles Powers, Paul Morton, Paul Edward, Claire Gerty, Caryl Key, R. O. Foote, Howell White, J. A. Somers, Dale Langley, Constance Campbell and Sam Kirk.

More than a hundred people attended the opening reception at the city hall Monday evening to meet the artists and see the art work and splendid kodachromes from the collections of R. C. Lewis, Mrs. Robert de Wright and Dr. L. L. Krebs. Of special exhibit interest were the miniatures of Miss Ella Bush, nationally known miniaturist, the unusual work of A. L. Suman and a collection of block prints by Vernon Morse. Exhibited in the iSerra Madre News Office are six paintings done by Henry I. Hawxhurst. A flower arrangement by Miss Pinghill appears in the News window.

Reservations for the dinner at the Wistaria Vine Gardens, Saturday evening, should be phoned to 5353 as quickly as possible.

Days Here Feel Like Summer, But The Nights Like Winter

Bright, beautiful, warm days and chilly nights marked the weather here this week. Without ever reaching the "80's", Sierra Madre's warmest day of the week was Friday when the temperature reached a mere 78 degrees. Col. H. B. Hersey's temperature recordings follow:

November 21	.....	62	46
November 23	.....	65	45
November 23	.....	67	45

Firemen Name Five Reserve Members Of The Department

To fill temporary vacancies in the Volunteer Firemen's organization, firemen recently voted in a five-man reserve board, naming Joe Hutak, James Harper, Harold Spears, William Work and Charles Brown as reserve members. Since regular members occassionally have work that necessitates their being out of town temporarily, it was thought advisable to have these men on call in case of emergency.

The list of new members was submitted to the city council Tuesday evening and referred to the committee of the whole.

Open Drive For Rice Bowl Fund Dec. 2

Money Contributed To Go As Insurance Against Spread Of War To U.S.

Mrs. Robert Wright who has accepted the chairmanship of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Bureau for Medical Aid to China, called a meeting of her committee Sunday afternoon to plan the drive for the China Rice Bowl Fund.

"We on the West Coast must turn our attention to aiding China, thereby aiding Great Britain and ourselves," stated Mrs. Wright, who will launch the drive in Sierra Madre on December 2, adding that it is her conviction that every dollar we send to China is worth many times that much in insurance against bringing war to this country.

"We have learned," said Mrs. Wright, "that one penny will feed a child in Northern China for a day; 20 pennies will clothe a person in Northern China for the winter; one dollar will feed and clothe a child for a month or immunize 50 persons against either cholera, typhoid or bubonic plague."

Assisting Mrs. Wright on the committee are Grace B. Caukin, vice chairman; R. C. Lewis, treasurer; L. R. Goshorn, chairman of publicity; Mrs. Alyce Anderson, Mrs. Robert C. Lyon, Dr. and Mrs. J. Earl Gossard and Harry Lange.

The drive opens December 2 with gaily decorated tables placed at available points in the downtown district where donations will be thankfully received.

Order Compromise On Old Canyon Park Claim Against City

Compromise settlement of a claim of $900 against the city by the law firm of O'Melveny & Myers for its services in condemnation proceedings to secure rights of way for the roads through Canyon Park was authorized by the city council at its meeting Tuesday. The court proceedings begun under the Mattoon Act in 1931 were never completed because of inability to secure service on many affected property holders, some of whom have died or moved away.

The law firm indicated its willingness to compromise for $500 and the council accepted the proposition with the provision that the case first be as nearly closed as is possible under the circumstances. The $500 will be paid out of the city treasury.

Permits Issued For 2 More Fine Homes In East Section

More new homes continue to dot Sierra Madre's streets as "city folks" seek the solitude and beauty at the foot of its colorful foothills. Mr. and Mrs. Noren Eaton, present residents of Los Angeles but well known in Sierra Madre, are just starting a six room home at 279 East Laurel avenue. Features will be a broad terrace opening off the dining room and an enclosed patio accessible from the living room and the library and visible from the kitchen. Purchase of the lot was made recently through the real estate firm of Neale and Russell. Mr. Eaton is a Los Angeles attorney and close friend of Judge Thomas Neale.

Foundation for another new home, next to the recently completed Lester Layton home, was laid this week by Mr. and Mrs. McCarty, landscape architects. The property, located at 309 East Sierra Madre blvd., is part of the E. Waldo Ward subdivided estate. It will be a rambling type ranch home, 80 feet long and will include greenhouse facilities for raising rare plants.

Hostesses To Greet Folks At Stores

Shops Take On Holiday Air And Streets Will Be Decorated Next Week

Sierra Madre store windows blazed out in their Christmas splendor this week. Each day another merchant added his selection of bright Christmas offerings of lovely gifts against red and green holiday decorations.

Individual Christmas trees, lighted and colorfully decorated, will stand in tubs in front of each store in the business district next week, giving the shopping district a real Christmas air.

In addition to the tree lined streets, decorations will go up throughout the town. Trees will be installed as soon as a delivery can be made. Volunteer Firemen will trim the huge city park deodar with Christmas ornaments and candy-filled stockings for the children will be added Christmas Eve.

To acquaint townspeople with the wealth of new Christmas merchandise that will be offered by merchants during the holiday season, the Chamber of Commerce, headed by President Harry Lange, is sponsoring a hostess day, December 14th, in all Sierra Madre stores.

Working with the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants, prominent members of the Woman's Club will each draw the name of a store and will act as hostess during the day for the merchant whose name she draws.

She will greet townsfolk visiting the store, register them and receive ten of her personal friends who will come to view the attractive Christmas displays.

Several of the merchants already contacted are planning special exhibits and will serve refreshments. Miss Hazel James Ferguson is chairman of the committee representing the Woman's Club.

Another Side To Relations With Latins

Kiwanians heard the other side of the story regarding our relationship with Latin and South American countries at their meeting Tuesday when Robert Wright, billed as "Senor Roberto Eleganto Wright," refuted certain statements of Jose Mendoza who appeared on the program the previous week.

It was true, said Wright, we would be allowed to improve South American ports and build extensive roads in South America for national defense purposes, but we would also foot the bill and still have neither their control nor ownership. The Latins, said Wright, in their easy going way let Uncle Sam go as far as he likes in spending his money, but Uncle Sam always ends up as the "goat."

One new member, Dale Langley, was inducted into membership, as a representative from the Sierra Madre NEWS office, and an old member, Leo Cullum, owner of the Cullum Market, renewed his membership.

Fifteen Kiwanians and their wives will dress up for a dinner dance to follow the installation of Division 10 officers at the Midwick Country Club, on Tuesday evening. New Lieutenant Govenor of the district, David O'Leary, Pasadena Deputy District Attorney, will be inducted at this time.

Membership Drive Of Red Cross Is Slacking Down

Sierra Madre's Red Cross membership drive is lagging, Tom Schwartz, local chapter chairman, announced yesterday. Only 500 have enrolled in the annual Roll Call, to date, as compared with 1200 last year. While the chapter has no quota in dollars to meet, the added responsibility upon Red Cross chapters all over the United States due to conscription and the National preparedness program, makes it imperative that each individual contribute as heavily as possible if the comprehensive work of the Red Cross is to be carried on.

Few contributors realize, states Schwartz, that this fund is not for war relief abroad, but is used entirely in the United States, and the greater part of the money taken in during the Roll Call is used right here in Sierra Madre. Only 50 cents per member, whether that member contributes one or fifty dollars, is sent to the National Red Cross for use in other states.

Big Events Of Art Week Yet To Come

Concert Tomorrow And Public Supper At Wistaria Gardens Saturday

Providing one of the loveliest of the stages on which Sierra Madre's Festival of the Arts week is being played, Wistaria Vine Gardens Friday evening will welcome Bernard Sinsheimer's well known Quartet Intime, which is to present a concert of popular chamber music for the benefit of the Arts Guild.

Reviving the charming old "intimate custom," the musical group will play on an informal central stage in the midst of the audience—rather than being seated on any regular platform separated from the listeners.

Ruth Howell, Pasadena singer, and Hazel Blake Zamora, pianist, are to appear as soloists on the concert program, which will be attended by numerous noted artists, musicians and social leaders of Sierra Madre, San Marino, Pasadena, Los Angeles and neighboring cities and towns.

The Art Week festivities continue Saturday night with a public supper program at Wistaria Gardens arranged by Florence Bertsch of the Sierra Madre News, and Marjorie Hesse, San Gabriel Valley newspaperwoman. The entire art colony, including leading members of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild and Henry Ivins Hawxhurst, dean of local artists and founder of the allied arts movement here, have been invited to attend. A Sunday sunset supper program has been arranged for December 1, as is customary.

Housewife Reports She Was Held Up In Her Home Here

A man representing himself to be a salesman for a well known brush company entered her home at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, pointed a blue barreled automatic pistol at her head and demanded what money there was in the house, Mrs. Evelyn Parsons of 176 Merrill avenue reported to the police. She emptied a coin purse containing $1.75 into his hand and was threatened that the stick-up man would return and take her five-year old daughter Lou Ann if she made an outcry or notified police, Mrs. Parsons said. Then the man left the house. As he reached the curb a blue sedan drove up, he jumped in and the car drove away.

Mrs. Parsons described the intruder as a slender, well dressed man in his late thirties. She said he came to her door carrying a sample case and asked permission to enter and show his samples, pulling the gun immediately after the door was closed behind him. When he departed she rushed to a neighbors house and called police, she said.

The only similar occurence in Sierra Madre was nine years ago when a bandit stuck up the bank here. As a result of Mrs. Parsons report, Police Chief McMillan issued a warning to householders to beware of peddlers and agents and to admit them to their homes after being certain of their identity by identification cards and badges carried by representatives of all reputable concerns.

Found It Easier To Get Here Now

Miss Lulu Bixby had lots less trouble getting here yesterday when she came from her home in Pasadena for the Art Week celebration than she did when she came here to live in 1887. There was no car line then. She lived here for 20 years.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

WHEN the firemen come around to sell tickets for their annual dance, don't make them call three or four times. If they miss you the first time stop in at the city hall and buy your tickets there. Since 1920 those good citizens have seen to it that nobody in our town was missed by Santa Claus. They have set an example which many other towns have followed, so that altogether many thousands of children benefit every year by what they started.

And if you sympathize with the thousands of refugee children who have been conveyed to Canada from England go to Commander and Mrs. Rappolee's tea on December 3. It runs from 2 to 7, so everyone will have a chance to appear.

Kendall Heasley Is Badly Injured As Car And Cycle Crash

Kendall Heasley, 21, son of Police Officer James Heasley and brother of James Heasley, Jr., was badly injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile Monday evening, in Compton. He received a fractured skull, body abrasions and head injuries and was removed from a Compton hospital to the General hospital.

Although he was unable to tell how the accident occurred, it is believed that a car stopping suddenly at an intersection on Compton blvd. caused him to swerve and be thrown from the motorcycle. Police found an identification card in his wallet and notified his father. Last reports from the hospital are that he will be there for several weeks, but will recover. He is employed by the Artesia Chevrolet Company.

Airport Site Near Here Gains Favor

Suggested Location Five Miles South Seen As Boost For Sierra Madre

Plans for a major airport in the San Gabriel Valley, probably located between Monrovia and El Monte, gained momentum when Regional Planning Commissioners, the County Board of Supervisors and representatives from all San Gabriel Valley communities met recently at the new Long Beach municipal airport.

The proposal is part of a statewide recommendation contained in preliminary draft of a master plan for airports and airways in California submitted to Governor Olson by the State Planning Board.

Following the original program of four municipal airports, one at each point of the compass, in Los Angeles County, only the location of the airport serving the northeast portion is yet to be determined. Terminals in Burbank, northwest; Mines Field, southwest; and Long Beach, are either completed or in the process of completion. Only the northeast point, somewhere in the San Gabriel Valley, is yet to be chosen to complete the compass.

Although any plans for the San Gabriel airport are essentially tentative, the location south of Monrovia and north of El Monte in the San Gabriel Wash, close to the proposed Santa Fe dam site, has gained most enthusiastic support from valley officials.

While Monrovia and El Monte are the towns most vitally affected, it is believed that Sierra Madre would have much to gain by a major air terminal so located. Just five miles from the proposed location, Sierra Madre, because of its desirability as a residential community, would undoubtedly attract workers families with a steady purchasing power.

In addition to the convenience of an air terminal in this vicinity, the port would be an asset from the standpoint of national defense. A public hearing on the adoption of the comprehensive development program for the county has been set for January 14, 1941 before the Board of Supervisors in the Hall of Records.

Four Parts Open In Cast For Junior Women's Play

First steps toward the production of the play "Aunt Tillie Goes to Town" by Braun will be taken at 7 o'clock next Thursday when members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club Juniors meet in the Junior Club rooms for tryouts.

The four following parts are open for men: Ronald Holland, tall and athletic; Mervin Tucker, a man of nerious temperment; Luther Lorrimer, tall, wealthy, distinguished man of 50, and Charlie One Lung, a Chinese cook in the middle twenties.

All Junior members who are interested in the play are urged to attend.

Mrs. Masser, district chairman, and Mrs. C. C. Barker, State junior advisor, will speak at the district conference which will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, November 30, at district headquarters. Gretta Patterson, Melba Seifert and Helen Needles will attend.

Sparks Fly When Citizens Committee Recommends Changes At City Hall

Charge That "A Loose Method of Accounting and Handling Of City Money Has Been Common Practice" Irks Members Of The City Council— Want Front Office Employees Appointed For Fitness— More Salary For City Treasurer

Sparks flew in a discussion between the city council and the recently appointed citizens committee of nine following reading Tuesday evening of a communication from the committee recommending a series of changes in the handling of the city's accounting system.

The recommendations came as a result of a meeting between the council and committee on September 24 when the latter made a detailed inquiry into duties performed by various officials and employes and their responsibilities.

At the outset the commttee's letter announced that during this conference and by the auditor's report following discovery of misappropriation of water funds by a former employe it was "revealed that a lose method of accounting and handling of city money has been common practice."

Then came recommendations that the "present office of auditor of the water department be abolished; that changes be made in the duties of the personnel of the front office force so as to materially increase its efficiency and that such duties be clearly defined" . . because "it is the committee's opinion that too much authority is vested in one man and that the scope of his operations is too broad."

There were other recommendations as to the handling of detail in the front office, but it was in connection with this one that voices rose in the discussion.

Out of the verbal ball tossing came a concrete recommendation from the committee's spokesman, Lawrence Washburn, that this city follow the rule of other municipalities in segregating responsibility now vested entirely in the City Clerk, both for his protection and as a matter of good practice. Particular point of fire was the clerk's overlapping duty as deputy city treasurer. It was pointed out that duties of a city clerk are primarily to receive money and to keep accurate accounts; that the expenditure of money is the duty of the city treasurer. The committee verbally suggested increasing front office personnel so that there would not be so much power vested in one individual and referred to the theory of Sierra Madre's type of city government which requires one man's work as a check against the other. To carry out, several methods were mentioned—one, that the pr[illegible] treasurer's salary be increased from $30 monthly to an amount that would justify the treasurer serving as a part time employee.

Other recommendations listed on the report were that all checks payable to the City be stamped "For Deposit Only," a practice instituted several months ago; that daily deposits be made; that no checks be cashed in excess of the amount of the water bill to be paid; that a detailed audit of city business be made by a certified accountant at sufficiently frequently intervals; that water readings be made with indelible pencil and not erased; that all entries in the city books be made in ink, with corrections initialed and footings in ink.

It was further recommended that all employes of the front office, not elected, be selected by fitness shown through a competitive examination open to everyone. Only objection voiced to this was that the examination would not prove a person's honesty and that the most capable might be the most dishonest.

In summing up its activity the Committee stated that it was in no way biased in its recommendations; that the committee is not out to "get" anyone, but is solely and sincerely interested in instituting the governmental practices. Absent from both meetings with the committee was Mayor William Schiltz. Temporary Mayor Thomas Schwartz conducted both hearings.

The discussion was ended by an announcement that the council would carefully study and consider the committee's recommendations.

Problems Of Future To Be Discussed

Editors To Hear Educators On National Defense And Allied Subjects

Editors and publishers of several hundred newspapers of Southern California, including the heads of this paper, have been invited to attend a special press dinner at the 18th Institute of World Affairs at the Riverside Mission Inn Tuesday evening (December 10.)

Co-sponsors of the dinner, one of the annual features of the Institute, are the Riverside Chamber of Commerce and the Institute of World Affairs. Marc N. Goodnow, executive secretary of the conclave and member of the University of Southern California journalism faculty, will preside.

The program for that date is one of the highlights of the six-day session to be participated in by educators from 18 universities, army and navy officers and governmental officials from Washington D.C.

At the morning program Rear Admiral C. A. Blakely, 11th Naval District, San Diego, will speak on "Our Sea Defenses;" Brigadier General E. B. Colladay, March Fiedl, on "Our Land Defenses," and Major Jacob E. Fickel, Southwest Air District, Riverside, on "Our Air Defenses."

The evening program, at which press representatives will be special guests, will be a symposium on "The Direction of United States Foreign Policy."

Taking part will be general David P. Barrows, University of California, speaking on "America's Foreign Policy in a World at War;" Dr. William B. Munro, California Institute of Technology, "Can the Foreign Policy of the Western Hemisphere be Unified?" and Prof. Linden A. Mander, University of Washington, "The American Stand in a Future World Order."

Reception To Honor New Pastor And Wife

A reception to which all members of the Congregational church and their friends have been invited to meet the Rev. Frederick Groetsema, new pastor of the Congregational Church, and Mrs. Groetsema, will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening in Pritchard Hall.

Al Miller will act as master of ceremonies for the special program which has been arranged and which will be presented in part by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kirk, prominent Sierra Madre musicians. Mrs. George Morgridge is music chairman for the evening.

Members of the reception committee are Messrs and Mesdames F. W. Miles, Rudolph Hartman, Edwin Ward, Jr., C. W. Jones, B. L. Hinkley, Al Miller, George Morgridge, Convers L. Twycross and Miss Cynthia Hull.

Sabotage Law Will Be Enforced

Following the adoption of the city's ordinance directed against fifth columnists, the city council Tuesday evening appointed Al Freeland, caretaker at the city water plant, as a special police officer and directed him to arrest persons trespassing on the city's property at the pumping station, or reservoirs. Police officers have been instructed to keep a careful watch on these properties and to arrest all trespassers on sight.

13th Grandchild Arrives In The N. W. Tarr Family

Thanksgiving night brought the 13th grandchild to Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Tarr of 247 West Montecito avenue, when a son weighing 9 pounds 7 ounces was born to Dr. Agnes Tarr, wife of Dr. Lloyd Tarr, at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles. The baby, second child of the Lloyd Tarrs, will be christened Timothy Lloyd. Dr. Agnes Tarr will remain in Los Angeles until after the new year and then plans to resume her medical work. Dr. Lloyd Tarr who was in the Southland last week has returned to the Stony Creek Sanitarium at Keene, Kern county, where he will be a patient for an indefinite period.

Girl From England Makes Trip Here To Be Married

A young British woman who sailed from Liverpool, England, November 7 and arrived here on the Santa Fe Scout Saturday morning was entertained with her fiancee by Jacques Hahn at his home, 343 Grove street, Saturday evening. The young woman, Miss Joan Adams, made the trip from her native city, Bath, Sommerset, within a hundred miles of London, to marry her childhood sweetheart David Cunningham, young British horticulturist of Whittier. The wedding will take place early in December in the patio of Mr. Hahn's home.

Miss Adams who arrived in New York on the Samaria, which made an uneventful crossing without convoy, states that there is no giving up in the spirit of the British, and that the terrific air raids which they have experienced have served only to stiffen their determination to hold out and win.

Sunday Miss Adams and Mr. Cunningham were guests of Mr. Hahn for luncheon and cocktails at Santa Barbara, and for a tour of Santa Barbara Gardens.

Big Polo Tourney On At Riviera Club

Polo interest in this part of the country is centering in the Banks Stocks polo tournament which is being run off with midweek games and will continue with a double header bill Sunday afternoon at Riviera Country Club. Leading contender for the silverware to date is Westwood, a squad captained by Charles "Buddy" Rogers, the film actor. Last Sunday his outfit managed to eke out a hard fought victory over Riviera to the tune of 5-4.

Two games and a card of equestrian jumping events will be seen on the Sunday program at Riviera.

Many Descendants Of Early Settlers Here For Dinner

Members of the A la California Club gathered for their November meeting Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. A. R. Sepulveda, 646 Orange Drive, and after the meeting enjoyed a Spanish supper of menudo, Spanish beans, salsa and coffee served by Mrs. Sepulveda. The A la California Club is composed of descendents of the early Spanish settlers. Its aims are to revive and perpetuate early California music, dancing and traditions, and to bind its members in closer bonds of friendship and understanding.

Those present at the meeting Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Tomas Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Florey, Mr. and Mrs. Patricio De Soto, Mrs. Josephine Garcia and Mrs Effie Rowe of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Del Castillo of Culver City; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sepulveda, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Palomares of San Gabriel; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Botiller, and Mr. and Mrs. George Duarte of Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ramirez of Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Arrigonnie of Monterey Park; Mr. and Mrs. Rosendo Sepulveda and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Talbott of Altadena. Richard Sepulveda is president of the club.

Wildflower Garden Being Planted By Brownie Scouts

Sierra Madre Brownie Scouts who comprise the Junior Garden Club under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Steinberger have been busy during the last week planting wild flower seeds which were donated by Mrs. A. S. Guiberson of Beverly Hills, state chairman of Junior Garden Clubs.

Each Brownie gardener has a plot 10x20 feet which she has prepared for seeds by cultivation. In the spring, awards will be given by the Sierra Madre Garden Club to Brownies having the best gardens.

This afternoon Brownies are holding their regular meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Raymond D. Andrews. A stunt party has been planned by the group, each member contributing music, a song or a story.

Roth Quartet In Pasadena Sunday

Many stories are told about the combined value of the instruments played by famous quartets. But it remains for the Roth quartet which gives the second Coleman Concert in the Pasadena Playhouse Sunday evening, December 1st at 8:30 to take particular pride in the other indispensable accessary of a fiddler, the bow. Both Villaume and Tourte bows are included in their collection; their combined fiddle sticks being worth close to a thousand dollars.

The Roth Pasadena program will include, String quartert in A Miner, Op. 41, N. 1 by Schumann, Schubert Gotet Opus 165 for string quartet, clarinet, bassoon, horn and double bass and Andantino and En Bateau.

The studio is specializing in portrait and commercial photography and will carry a complete line of photographic supplies.

Visitor From China To Be Welcomed At Party Here Today

A Thanksgiving celebration postponed for a week so that an American woman, wife of a Standard Oil official in China, might be welcomed home with the traditional Thanksgiving feast, will take place today at the home of Miss Marian Vannier, 153 South Hermosa.

The guest, Mrs. D. C. Reib, arrived with her infant daughter from Shanghai, Tuesday, aboard the President Coolidge. She was among the large number of American women recently ordered home from the Orient because of the growing tension in Japanese-American relations. She will remain with Miss Vannier until she has established a permanent residence in this vicinity.

Those to be present at the dinner are the Rev. M. D. Kneeland and Mrs. Kneeland; Miss Jean Grantham, Miss Thomasella Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham, Miss Lillian Bajou, Mrs. Alfred R. Page, Mrs. Grace Lauman, Mrs. E. H. Vannier and C. F. Vannier of this city; Arthur Vibert of Hollywood, and Miss Marian Vannier.

Altar Society Card Party December 5

A committee meeting to complete plans for the benefit card party to be given by St. Rita's Altar Society at St. Rita's Auditorium December 5, was held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Evans, Tuesday. The affair is for the purpose of raising funds for new linoleum in the kitchen adjoining St. Rita's auditorium. Games will be provided for all and the prizes offered will be really worth while.

FIND THE EAST COLD

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Waddell, Jr. ,of 425 Canyon drive, returned Saturday from a two weeks business trip which took them to Chicago and Detroit and into Indiana and Ohio. Throughout the trip they encountered unusually cold weather and a heavy snow blanket in the region around Prescott, Arizona. Mr. Waddell is general manager of the Anson W. Thompson Co. of Los Angeles.

As It Appears To me

¶ Scarcely a week passes here at the NEWS without our being asked to write an appeal for one or another type of benefit, until some of our townspeople are beginning to voice the opinion that this year has been just one long drive for funds to sustain various causes.

¶ After examining this perhaps just criticism from all angles, we have come up against the sharp thought that perhaps this is just the beginning, and that as the international turmoil progresses we are going to be asked to give more and more. Today Lord Lothian has inferred that Britain will have to have financial aid if she is to continue her valiant resistance to the Nazi onslaught. Tomorrow, figuratively speaking, will undoubtedly bring additional pleas.

¶ As everyone knows who reads this column, we have consistently sought to maintain some degree of balance in looking at this problem. When some of you have had your hearts, minds and vision focussed across the Atlantic, we have written about needs at home. So this week we may seem to be inconsistent when we ask of everyone the fullest cooperation during the annual benefit drive for the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China, which will get underway December 2.

¶ To our mind though, there is no inconsistency, for whether we like to admit it or not, the fact still stands that much of the horror which has been the daily fare of a large majority of Chinese during their gallant resistance to the invader ,has come through American War supplies. So in giving to the Rice Bowl Drive, we are only in a small degree making amends for past mistakes.

¶ Apropo of the current discussion about Thanksgiving we have learned a few interesting bits of Thanksgiving history which you, too, may enjoy knowing. Dean Bode tells us that in the Episcopal Prayer Book, published by the Common Prayerbook Society of Pennsylvania in 1818, the reference to Thanksgiving is to the effect that in addition to the Christmas and Easter Feast Days the "FIRST Thursday in November (or if any other day be appointed by the civil authority then honor such day) shall be observed as a day of Thanksgiving." The Encyclopedia Britannica states that the Pilgrims set apart a day for Thanksgiving immediately after their first harvest (which surely must have come before the last of November). During the War of Independence the Continental Congress appointed one or more Thanksgiving days each year, and Washington appointed November 26 as the day of Thanksgiving in 1789, which to our mind seems to have been a breaking away from established precedent. Incidentally the Episcopal prayer book still holds to the FIRST Thursday.

FIRE FLAMES

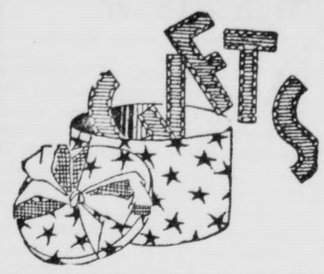

By One of the Boys

With three new reserve members added to the fire department, the "Quarters" meeting room was filled to capacity Friday evening. When "collection of fines" came up in order, the chief accompanied Louie Karger on his rounds. Each member was scanned from head to toes and not a few were fined for lack of shoe polish or for some minor infringement of the rules. Thinking that he could fool the chief Lee Hibbs had borrowed a badge from a retired member to replace his own that he lost last drill night. The badge had been found and turned in to the chief. When asked, "Is that your badge you are wearing?" Hibbs repied, "Yes, sir." He was fined plenty for the answer. Everybody paid fines but not without a good argument, which makes for the jollity of the meetings.

Some of the men are already selling tickets for the big Christmas party. All who have, report that people are looking for them and sales are expected to be unusually good.

The good rains that we have had have done much good for five prevention, but there is still danger in the mountain area. Since many roads have been built into the mountains, most people are careful while traveling, but there are enough who are careless and a few who do not realize, so it is up to all who know the danger to inform the others. The importance of the growth on our mountainsides can only be realized when we know of the results of another region's experience.

A CHEERFUL OUTLOOK

With war spreading through southern Europe and threatening to engulf Africa and all Asia, long-term predictions on the world's future can be little more than pure guesswork even by the wisest of prophets. For the year immediately ahead however, the future of America seems the brightest in a generation. Relief rolls are shrinking. Ranks of the unemployed are thinning. Construction, expansion, production are the rising order of the times. Consumption nationally of electric power has soared to an all time peak of more than 15,000,000 kilowatt hours for the first nine months of this year — approximately 50 percent greater than the power production of 1929. America's railroads are budgeting enormous sums to keep step with traffic needs. Auto sales are shattering records from coast to coast.

In all that resurgence of industrial activity, California retains the "white spot" position she held through the depression. The percentage of California farm families owning motor vehicles is the highest in the nation—97 per cent. The construction budget of the Pacific Gas & Electric company is $26,000,000 — $2,000,000 over last year. The railroad industry, against odds too, is making jobs for men, the Southern Pacific alone expending over $17,000,000 for 20 new locomotives, 2540 freight cars and 51 air-conditioned streamlined passenger cars, and joining hands to build and operate a new transcontinental luxury train. Such activities, spreading through all manufacturing, growing, processing and distributing, are providing the answers to the problems of unemployment, of relief, of business bankruptcy and governmental deficits, of stagnation in production and consumption — the answer summed up in the word "jobs," job for millions of creating, earning, spending builders of America.

Ahead of wretched Europe lies a year of wholesale destruction. But America's current history might be written on a page headed, Jobs, Inc.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

AS to that idea of turning the Barlow property into a park and library for our village, it never came from us, as some people seemed to think it did. The first we knew about it was when we read about it in the NEWS. And then it struck us right away as—well, let's say, a trifle over-optimistic, a bit on the side of what the French call la folie de grandeur—which somehow sounds nicer than to say just plain crazy. As to the library part of it, coupled with the suggested museum, we've already got the Huntington magnificence—and not so very much further away at that. While what Sierra Madre needs is something not pretentious at all; but a modest, yet modern, comely, convenient, and adequate (to future as well as present needs) library building such as so many other self-respecting towns no bigger nor richer than we are already have.

THEN, as to that park. We've already got one park — as fine a little park, right there in the center of things on Sierra Madre blvd., as anyone could ask for. With a flavor of age and local history about it, ripened, beautifully conserved. A garland to the keeper of it. We've never seen it other than verdant, inviting, spick and span—without being, you know, Sundayfied. Great trees. A beautiful lawn — and yours to sit on. Tables and benches. Tennis courts. A meeting house such as any town might envy. And then, besides, as not long ago someone also suggested in the NEWS— we believe that it was Marion Hays—Sierra Madre has potentially that other splendid bit of parkland, down there at the "spreading grounds." A noble heritage, sure enough, and one that we'll get around to at some future date.

BUT just now, while we're on the subject of parks, we'd like to put in a word or two once more on behalf of Bailey Canyon. For, oh, what a park that was! —and is! —and, so help us, ever shall be! Deserted—yes, and desecrated now—ever since the last big flood. Yet with ever a lure, a fragrance, a majesty. You don't have to have a Yosemite in which to invite your soul, anymore than you need a cathedral, really, to pray in. Anyway, there's Bailey Canyon, also a city park—our very own. And are we talking about spending money for yet another —or the need of another—while this one lies there neglected, spurned? Bailey Canyon—where the deer and the cottontails play; also the squirrels, the quail, and that little singing cascade of cold sweet water. And the zig-zag trail that goes up—up to a wilderness that an elk might follow right on over to the Arctic circle—all without jumping hardly a fence or scarce smelling smoke; or that a man might follow— up to a healing solitude for many a hurt.

WELL, we see where they've put a barbed-wire fence along the canyon now as a fringe to Oscar Seiling's old Greek theatre. And may the angels reward Professor Seiling for that splendid effort, regardless of results. Also there were signs near the fence warning "leaf mould thieves" and all sundry to keep out. Signs and fence both necessary, no doubt. But they did seem to spoil a little the holy mystery of that sweet place. What spoiled it most, however, was something else. For, not very far away, down there along the bluff on this same side of the canyon., someone—could it have been the sponsor of that barbed wire and the signs?—had been using our park as a dump. Right over the canyon wall, in full view, an obscenity of tincans and other trash to soil and harass the lovely growing things. You can't swear very well in a place like Bailey Canyon; for, after all, it is a sort of cathedral. But we did feel rather—sorry.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Taking time by the forelock, a notable galaxy of political peers of the realm, each with a desire to hang up his hat in the Governor's Mansion at Sacramento, has started setting the stage for California's great gubernatorial drama of 1942.

Although actual campaigning isn't scheduled to begin for at least another 12-months, leading candidates in both major parties, already are maneuvering and jockeying for position, with one or two of the aspirants openly building their organizations.

Senator "Bob" Kenny of Los Angeles, for example, is an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination and is busily at work, trying to rally some of the Bourbon legislators behind his banner so that he can fire the first volleys of his campaign during the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

In addition to Governor Olson, who may wish to succeed himself, Senator Kenny is likely to collide head on with the ambitions of John Dockweiler, the newly-elected Los Angeles County district attorney, and the aspirations of Speaker of the Assembly Gordon Garland, who has gained considerable prestige as one of the leaders of the legislative Economy Bloc.

Other possible Democratic contenders include versatile George Creel, who was President Wilson's ace propagandist during the World War; Collector of Internal Revenue Clifford C. Anglim, one of the most brilliant orators of the Bourbon brigade; Melvyn Douglas, the screen star and husband of beautious Helen Gahagan; Secretary of State Paul Peek, Lieutenant Governor Ellis Patterson and sundry others.

The rejuvenated Republican Party, brimming with enthusiasm as a result of the tremendous vote polled by its presidential candidate,, Wendell Willkie, also has a host of prospective candidates, including Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, the President Pro Tem of the State Senate, who is recogized as a leading contender.

Other top-flight names in the G.O.P. lineup, all being given consideration in the gubernatorial revue, include Paul Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle; Phil Bancroft ,the fighting farmer from Contra Costa County; Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles; Attorney General Earl Warren; newly-elected Congressman Tom Rolph of San Francisco, brother of the late Governor "Sunny Jim" Rolph; Justus Craemer of Orange, a member of the State Railroad Commission, and State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson.

An interesting sidelight on the gathering campaign is the fact that Wendell Willkie, titular head of the Republican Party nationally, plans to come to California shortly and will confer with GOP leaders here regarding the approaching governorship battle. Mr. Willkie has expressed the opinion, privately, that California can elect a Republican Governor in 1942. All of which adds tone to the drama now in the making!

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

CHANGE THE METER

There was once a poet who wrote and wrote, 'til he had enough poems to sink a boat. He sent them away, a prayer on his lips but they soon came back, with rejection slips.

One particular slip made the poet see red, we quote, word for word, what an editor said; "In my estimation, your stuff would be sweeter if once in a while, you'd just change the meter." And here's what the poet wrote in reply, a brief but plausible alibi; "Regarding the meter, I want you to know I've a mighty good reason for keeping it so. Our gas bills were running unusually high, so the gas man suggested we'd better try a brand new meter, that's what to do, predicting our bills would be cut in two. We changed the meter, and woe betide, the gas man had taken us for a ride; that meter change brought only grief and came near putting us on relief. So Mr. Editor, don't you see what changing the meter did to me? I hope this letter will fully explain why I refuse to change it again."

October expenditures of the three large California state aid programs— aid to needy aged, blind and children— aggregated $6,783,220.13. Major portion of the huge expenditure constituted old age security payments aggregating $5,616,462.23.

He died penniless in a Bowery rooming house. That was 76 years ago. Last week New York University elected him to a place among the immortals in its hall of fame. But Stephen Collins Foster nominated himself to his own hall of fame 88 years ago, 12 years before his death, when he declared his intention "to establish my name as the best Ethiopian-song writer." "Ethiopian," in song writers' jargon, meant Negro-minstrel music. He succeeded in his ambition so amazingly and completely that it would probably be impossible to find an American today who doesn't know "My Old Kentucky Home," "Massa's in The Cold. Cold Ground," "Swanee River" and "Old Black Joe"—to name but four of Foster's songs. As long as America lasts, those grand old songs will be sung, by generation after generation of school children and in the firelight of millions of homes—and in the singing lives the deathless fame that Stephen Foster sought and so magnificently won.

Though maximum production of defense work in many fields will not be reached for two or three years, it is worth noting that in one field of defense—aviation— acceleration of output has been hearteningly conspicuous by its presence. Where the value of monthly plane deliveries averaged $30 million earlier in the year, in recent months the average has risen to $55 million. By January it is expected to reach $80 million and continue its upward climb. Here is defense, not on order, but in action!

The busily whirling Axis, now spinning through the southeast of Europe, has brought within its circle several of the Balkan States. All this has been heralded as part of the "new order" in Europe, but in reality it is more of a sop to the people of Germany ,an attempt to convince them—the promised conquest of England having failed—that the Third Reich marches triumphantly forward. Agreements between Germany and leaders of the Balkan nations, no matter how loudly acclaimed by the totalitarian press, simply multiply the difficulties and increase the vulnerability of the Third Reich. It is not conquest which is so difficult, as Napolen discovered — it is making conquest "stick." And nowhere are such difficulties more apt to appear than in the Balkans where the fires of nationalist pride have blazed fiercely for centuries despite all attempts to suppress them. There is no reason to believe the Nazis will enjoy any greater success than former conquerors in welding the intensely patriotic Balkan peoples into one happy family.

Chester H. Rowell, noted San Francisco publicist, told the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco —"The two-party system is vital in America, and if we don't have it, we will get either something like a one-party system that leads to semi-fascism, or, more likely, a multi-party system, which has led to ruin in Europe."

Are we Americans losing our sense of humor? This is the fear of a prominent New York educator who points to the recent bitter and humorless presidential election as good grounds for such a suspicion. And such grimness, he declares, is the result of an unhealthy mental state that bodies no good for the future of the country. We agree— a country without a sense of humor is in a very serious condition. But we do agree that these United States are in that lamentable state. Our presidental elections have nearly always been hard-fought, and often bitter, tussles. The tirades and merciless invective that lashed against presidential candidates in our elections during the last century make the latest campaign sound like a hosanna to sweetness and light. Americans play hard, work hard, and fight hard. If some of that do-or-die fighting spirit entered into the recent presidential contest, it is no occasion for alarm. It was not a new or menacing spirit, but the hard fighting spirit that is as old as the republic itself.

The surrender of one of France's biggest battleships to British authorities at the port of Algeciras, Spain, gives significant proof that even within the French navy—where anti-British feeling has been strongest—there is no undivided allegiance to the government at Vichy. The surrender of France, to an important degree, was based on the conviction of French leaders that Britain also would surrender within a few weeks at the most. The passing months have shown the falsity of that conviction and at the same time weakened the prestige of the puppet regime at Vichy. The surrender of the big French ship gives further evidence that free Frenchmen are still of a mind and a will to fight on.

CALIFORNIA WILL DO MORE THAN HER SHARE TO MAKE IT A MERRY CHRISTMAS

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

California, it so happens, produces more Christmas dinners—or at least more of the savory ingredients which go into Christmas dinners — than any other state or area on the face of the globe.

In fact, if Mrs. America were denied the help of the California farmer at Christmas-time, she would be hard put to it to fill the void.

California will provide more turkeys for American tables this Yuletide season than any other State in the Union. California, too, will provide millions of roast chickens; milions of fried chickens ;millions of eggs for millions of cakes; raisins for the puddings; oranges and walnuts and almonds for Christmas stockings in millions of households.

In most homes, the asparagus tips for the salads, the lettuce and the tomatoes—or perhaps the halves of avocados — will have come from California. And the preserved and spiced fruits, which add the final festive touch to a sumptuous Christmas feast— they too, will have come from California, in all probability.

And California farmers, right about now, are hard at work preparing the fixings for tens of millions of American dinners that will make Christmas-day this year a memorable occasion.

This story is written, not simply to remind California farmers of their important role in holiday festivities, but also to reassure the nation that there will be no shortage of Christmas delicacies on December 25, even though imported foods are running low and may not be available.

From New York comes a news dispatch that there's only enough caviar in the United States to last until Christmas. And supplies of pate de fois gras are practically exhausted. Olive oils, imported cheeses, chestnuts and other luxury items from foreign lands are also apt to be costly, if obtainable.

But happily, America is not dependent on imports from war-torn Europe. This nation, which loves its plain American foods, has plenty of beans—and plenty of pork—for American pork and beans. It has turkeys and cranberries and pumpkins in bumper quantities. It has sweet corn, quick frozen so that it will taste fresh all winter. Due to California's Imperial Valley and other warm belts, it has fresh vegetables when the snows are flying back in the Middle-West and New England. It has glaced apricots and prunes; watermelon rind preserves; fancy cheese which would make even the Swiss envious; syrup and buckwheat for cakes.

When it comes to food, this nation —our America— has everything. There's only one problem—and that's to see that all Americans have the money with which to buy it. Our only real problem in this country is to achieve domestic peace, as we have peace with other nations, so that men of all creeds and classes can find work again—and security at their own firesides. America just needs work—and that's the job all America should buckle down to. We have conquered production; we now need only learn to conquer distribution. We need only learn to live together!

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH A COLD HOUSE

INSTALL AUTOMATIC GAS HEAT NOW

There's a RIGHT TYPE of gas heating appliance to assure you healthful comfort

KEEP WARM, KEEP HEALTHY THIS WINTER! It's easy when your house has the right type of gas heating appliance. Just press a button or turn a valve handle. Then let the automatic control watch over the temperature you set!

WHOLESOME, SOOTHING WARM AIR—not too damp and not too dry—is yours with modern gas heating equipment. Floors are warm, too—a special advantage for the children.

A vented gas floor furnace brings the comfort of furnace heat to the home where space is limited. Requires no basement for installation. Economical. May be purchased with or without automatic controls. Priced from $68.50 installed (20,000 BTU).

For the home without a basement where central heating is desired. Gas forced-air unit has blower fan that sends warmth to every corner. Filters, too. Available with controls for temperature and humidity.

For a single room—or wherever the area to be heated is small—a vented gas warm-air circulator does a thorough, healthful job. Available with temperature control. Priced from $38.

For the home with basement a gas unit furnace is excellent. Available with everything you could want in controlled winter comfort. Warms, circulates fresh clean air. Economical.

Look for this Blue Star Seal. It will help you to select a good appliance.

DON'T WAIT! Now is the time to act—before cold weather comes to stay. See a furnace dealer or your gas company. Easy terms!

THE ART OF CARVING PORK LOIN

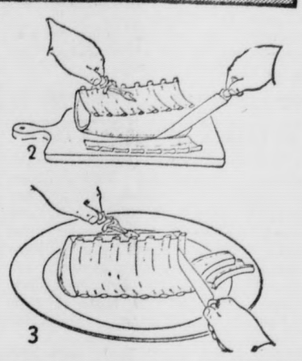

1. Note how the backbone has become loosened during cooking. The roast has been placed on a carving board, so that the backbone may be removed before the roast is placed on the platter.

2. Just one sweep of the knife will sever the backbone from roast.

3. Here is the roast on the platter in the correct position for the carver. The ribs, you see, are toward him where they will serve as guide to the direction the knife should take.

The carver should hold the roast steady by inserting the fork in the top as shown in the illustration. Roast pork is more tempting if the slices are cut thin. The carver cuts close against both sides of each rib. Every other slice will be boneless. If the loin is small, the slice will be thin enough if the cut is made between each pair of ribs—then every slice will contain a rib. With a large loin, two boneless slices may be cut between ribs.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' 'Round

Miss Bertsch

● Last column time, I exulted with you over the Sierra Madreans, men and women, who have civic consciences and can always be relied upon to back civic enterprises —workers like Wave and Lovetta Pratt, Paul and Gladys Carter, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Solomon, Tom and Margaret Schwartz — among others. Singling them out is dynamite, because invariably some of the hardest workers are omitted, but you know them better than I. They add prestige to every venture.

● Then there's the Junior Woman's Club group led by a tireless and consistently dependable Gretta Patterson. Laurels to you and your committee, Gretta, for assuming responsibilities at a moment's notice and carrying through victoriously, however toil worn and weary the effort may have made you.

● Thank you, Bill Burr, for your beautiful window that displays some of our local art work so well; and you, Nora Mesecar, for your enthusiasm in presenting such a pleasing sight for commuters to gaze on while they wait for the 8:10. And you, Tom Schwartz, for displaying Bernard Wynn's work well. We're not forgetting you, Mr. Skeels, with your swell window done in a southern motif. But, again, the naming of names is dangerous because suddenly I think of Jessie Dunning's two grand windows of Catherine Tuttle's water colors.

● What fun it is to see townspeople clustered in little groups appreciating the window displays and becoming acquainted for the first time with the wonderful collection of local art. Even our neighboring communities through their press have revelled in your efforts. All of us along the main street played host Tuesday to a group from Whittier, who oh'd and ah'd over the well-decorated shops.

● Don't forget the final dinner at the Vine, Sunday night, when the prizes for the most popular window display and the most popular painting will be awarded. There's a big surprise in the way of speakers who will attend the dinner, but the committee can't call them by name beforehand.

● Commenting on the merits or demerits of art in any form never fails to remind me of my infinite inadequacy to discuss the subject. So with due humility I report my reaction to Renee's dance recital at the Vine, Sunday night. To me it was the most beautiful program the Vine has had during my six months of culture reporting. Renee, who by the way is Mrs. John Copeland, wife of the L. A. Times reporter, was hauntingly beautiful in her fascinating and occassionally coquettish interpretations.

● Against a background of simple draperies and improvised lighting she created a mood that subdued her audience to complete quietness and keen attention. And if you think that's no feat when your audience is "turkey-fed," try it some time. Don't make us wait too long for another public appearance, Renee. The town is hungry for good programs of this kind.

TALBOTT TO DISCUSS NATIONAL DEFENSE

W. R .Humphries brings word that the new Arcadia Chapter of the Committee to Defend America by aiding the Allies invites all Sierra Madreans to hear an address by Dr. E. Guy Talbott in the City Hall at Arcadia, at 8 p.m. Friday, November 29. The Arcadia chapter, of which Mr. Humphries is secretary, will present Dr. Talbott in a talk on world affairs, expressing the belief that America can best protect itself from the aggressor nations and gain time to complete its defense program by sending all possible material aid to Britain. There will be a question and answer period, and no charge of any kind.

BABY IS CHRISTENED

With Mrs. Katherine Grijalva of 136 West Highland avenue and Frank Grijalva of Los Angeles assuming the responsibility of godparents, christening services for Patricia Loraine, three months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grijalva, were held at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Los Angeles Thanksgiving Day. Following the ceremony 30 relatives and friends who attended gathered at the Los Angeles home of Mrs. Lucy Lincoln, aunt of the baby, for a Thanksgiving dinner.

Garden Club Will Elect Officers

Through a native of Italy, Mrs. Maria Wilkes formerly resided in South Africa and will honor the Sierra Madre Gadren Club with her authentic knowledge as a noted horticulturist, when she talks on "South African Bulbs" next Monday night, December 2nd. following a 6 o'clock dinner at Wistaria Vine Gardens. Dinner reservations must be made promptly at CU. 5-5353. President Jacques Hahn will lecture on "Berried Shrubs."

The annual election of officers will take place, as well as the usual attractive features.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY HAS A SEWING SESSION

Members of the Woman's Society of the Congregational Church are urged by their president, Mrs. F. W. Miles, to be present at the sewing hour and meeting which will begin at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning with a business discussion. Those attending should bring their luncheon. Coffee and tea will be served. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the report from the autumn flower show will be read and section members will give reports of section meetings.

Danseuse Attracts Large Supper Crowd To Vine Gardens

More than a hundred and fifty prominent artists, musicians and socialites from numerous Southland cities were guests at Wistaria Vine Gardens Sunday evening on the occasion of the western dance debut of Renee, Paris trained interpretive danseuse.

The program opened with the tranquil ballade of Clair de Lune —the "dance song" of moonlight as it travelled over a quiet countryside. Then the mood changed completely in Fantaisie Cubaine, and the dancer was the flirtatious Latin cafe dancer wooing a chance caballero from his senorita.

From the mood of the hot afternoon of Cuba, of the cafe flirtation, Renee went to the mystic story of the young girl who beseeched a Pagan idol for love and riches.

Last came L'Africaine, a number done entirely in silhouette against a deep red-purple curtain, to the intricate war drums of the jungle. Pictorially the most effective of the lot, this number provided Renee with opportunity to display to the full her unusual use of hands and arms. Miss Elma McFarland, accomplished pianist, delighted listeners with a selection of classical numbers.

Tea Is Benefit For British Children Sent To Canada

A benefit tea, all proceeds from which will go for the relief of British children who have been evacuated to Canada, will be given by Mrs. C. E. Rappolee at her home, 491 West Montecito avenue, December 3, from 2 until 7 p.m.

Donated foods and white elephant articles will also be on sale. All Sierra Madreans have been invited to attend and those not able to be present may send any contributions they care to make to Mrs. Rappolee at her home address.

Bethany Women Will Hear Missionaries

Foreign missionary work in the Philippine Islands and Central America will be the subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Bethany Church at 10:30 Tuesday morning.

Miss Helen Hinkley of Ilo Ilo, Philippine Islands, will be the morning speaker and will be followed after luncheon by Miss Jay Ridderhof of the Central American mission. Women attending are asked to bring their luncheon.

BNAI' BRITH SERVICE AT JEWISH TEMPLE

The Alhambra Auxiliary No. 271 of Bnai'Brith conducted the very impressive Bnai'Brith Sabbeth service at Temple Beth Israel Friday evening, November 22. Mrs. Sara Geinstein, president of auxiliary, was in charge of the services, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Harris, religious education advisor, and Mrs. Anna Tax, counsellor, who spoke briefly on the ideals and principles of Bnai' Brith. Following the services refreshments were served by a committee of Alhambra women.

NEEDY REMEMBERED

Girl Scouts of the Sierra Madre Troop did their annual bit to bring happiness into Sierra Madre homes last week when they distributed Thanksgiving Baskets on Thanksgiving eve assisted by Mrs. R. E. Thompson and Mrs. Dan Strite.

Make It Pay

PUT that vacant house, or apartment ..... that spare room or empty garage to work. Make it produce some revenue this winter. There is an unusually heavy demand for winter accommodations. As opening of the racing season at Santa Anita nears there is an ever increasing volume of inquiries for quarters . . . If accommodations here are not made known these visitors will go to another town in the valley.

An inexpensive want ad in THE NEWS will bring you a tenant— add to your income. Anyone who has used them will tell you that NEWS want ads rarely fail to bring the answer.. are almost infallable.

Sun Goddess Picture Steps Into Flesh

An artist drew a beautiful Sun Goddess as the insignia for Southern California's All-Winter SUN FESTIVAL of entertainment for winter visitors sponsored by the All-Year Club and the Southern California Travel Promotion Committee and then a search began for a goddess in the flesh who fits the picture. She is Joan Leslie, a 15-year-old Hollywood girl, shown here in the pose which won her the Sun Goddess title. Winsome Goddess Joan will preside at many of the 300 events of the Festival.

Poems from Mrs. Adams' 4B room:

Christmas is coming
People are humming
Christmas is holly
People are jolly.
—Larrianne MacCammon.

Poems are so funny
They say many things
I'm always thinking up a poem
Even on the rings.
No matter where I am
I'm thinking up a rhyme
I'm thinking all the time.
—Priscilla Young.

I took a trip to the East. I had very nice friends on the train. In Providence I went to see my aunts and uncles and my grandmother. In New York I saw the Empire State building and the Statue of Liberty on the way to the World's Fair. I went to the World's Fair the last day it was open. I saw the Perisphere and the Trilon.—June Rosen.

Miss Moote's 5B class: The fifth grade class is having weekly plays at class meeting, about different subjects. We gave a play "The Good Thanksgiving," a story of a group of relatives that are very poor and are gathered in the house of Mr. Bob Cratchit who is nothing but a poor young man.—Paul Iffrig.

Mr. McLaughlin, our new orchestra teacher, has organized a boys' glee club. From the work the boys have been doing they promise to have a fine organization. The boys' club practices every Thrusday. The following boys are members:

Mr. Larsen's 7B room: The 7B class under Mr. Larsen is working in social studies upon the early colonial period in the United States. In arithmetic we have been having review tests in the division of whole numbers, addition, multiplication, subtraction, division of fractions, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of decimals. Our English work has covered composition, spelling, grammar, and punctuation. In the afternoon our program covers physical education, art, the girls take sewing and the boys have shop. In the woodshop we have finished our candle holders and are working on boxes. —Charles Root.

Maccabees Chapter Organized Here; Name Officers

A number of social-minded Sierra Madreans met last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young to organize a local chapter of "Maccabees," an organization whose charter dates from 1861 in London, England. Purpose of the group is to bring to its members, both men and women, interesting and varied programs on the first and third Monday of each month.

At its organization meeting officers were elected as follows: comander, Ray Hudson; lt. commander, Ray Penn; chaplain, James Kelliher; sgt., Carl Young; first gd., Homer Smith; sentinel, Robert Murphy; second gd., N. Dumas; mistress-at-arms, Mrs. Ray Penn; picket, Al Nyberg; record keeper, Mrs. James Kelleher; Judas Maccabees, Bernie DeLong; Deborrah, Miss Frances LaLone; pianist, Mrs. Ray Hudson; publicity, Dale Langley.

Meetings are to be held regularly at the Woman's clubhouse with the next one scheduled for December 2nd at 7:30 p.m.

Women Will Learn How To Wrap Their Xmas Packages

All Sierra Madre women who have longed to accomplish the exquisite artistry of Christmas wrapping which has the spotlight at exclusive stores and in magazines will have an opportunity to learn all of the details which make for a beautiful Christmas package from Enid Case of Bullocks, who will speak in the Junior Clubrooms of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club next Wednesday afternoon.

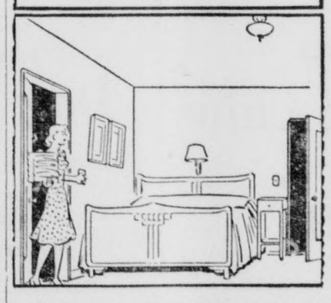

A cordial invitation to all women of the community has been extended by Gretta Patterson, president of the Junior Woman's Club, who announces that during ing the afternoon Junior women will model aprons which they have made. To complete the afternoon there will be a musical program given by Arthur Dewey, Juan Beauchamp, Charles Clements and Kenny Martin.

Woman's Club Holds Three Cooked Food Sales Saturday

To raise funds for new roofing for the Sierra Madre Woman's clubhouse, women of the club working under the chairmanship of Hazel James Ferguson and Mrs. Val Miller will sponsor a cooked food sale in three downtown markets Saturday.

All kinds of delicious cooked foods will be included in the sale and will be available at the Safeway, Roberts and Roess markets

YOUR HOME AND MINE
BY ANNE WILSON

It is more dangerous to be at home than in an automobile on the highway! This startling fact is disclosed by the American Red Cross, which has statistics to prove that more people are killed or injured annually in home mishaps than in motor accidents.

Most home injuries are due to falls, the Red Cross tells us. So let's get busy right away and make our home as "fall proof" as we possibly can. Anchor small rugs to polished floors with non-skid linings. Fix that tottering railing on the back porch steps. Teach Junior to pick up his toys instead of leaving them on the floor for someone to fall over.

Lighting places where danger might lurk is another way to prevent accidents. Halls, no matter how small, should have their own light, and members of the family should be urged to use it when they go through. A switch from either end of the hall will turn on the light whenever desired.

Stairs should also be lighted for safety. This includes stairs to the second floor, stairs to the basement, and stairs on the front and back porches.

Another way to prevent falls with lighting is to have the lights in every room controlled by a switch which may be turned on from two entrances. Then the lights may be turned on upon entering, and upon leaving one proceeds to the door before the lights are turned off. This prevents barked shins, irritated dispositions and worse, really serious falls.

A Few Pennies . . . a day
. . . that's all it takes to assure your family the continuation of your income— month after month — through a SALARY EXTENSION POLICY. Those few pennies, wisely invested, may indeed be "pennies from heaven" for those loved ones who now depend on your earnings.
Let us explain, without obligation, how you may secure this family protection.

JUDGE TO TELL LOCAL CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS CAUSE OF JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Members of the Kiwanis Club, Woman's Club, American Legion and its Auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, local Youth Activities Committe and all other civic organizations have been especially invited to attend a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in the grammar school cafeteria at 7:30 Thursday evening, December 5. Judge Frank Collier of the Superior court, Pasadena, will address the gathering on a subject in which members of all the organizations are deeply interested. His subject will be "The Relation of the Family to the Court." Judge Collier will draw from his fund of experience much that will be useful in the field of prevention of juvenile delinquency.

There will be a short period devoted to community singing, led by one of the parents, and the Room Mother Committee will serve coffee and doughnuts. Arrangements have been made to care for children in the kindergarten room during the meeting.

Woman's Club Notes

Popular priced art which will keep paintings moving from the artists studio into homes, thus assuring the artists a dependable if modest income and at the same time making possible the hanging of at least one good painting in every home, is one of the needs of the art movement in the United States, in the opinion of Helen Hawley Norozny, nationally known artist who spoke at the afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club, Wednesday. "I hope to see the recognition of the importance of art which is being expresed in National Art Week, expand, until artists and the public will work together on a program which will bring a painting into every home," said Mrs. Narozny, who has recently become a member of Sierra Madre's art colony and is now building a home here. "This may be acomplished," she said, "in part by the artist recognizing that it is better to keep paintings moving at a popular price, than to have them piled in an attic. Paintings should also be sold on time or exchanged for service whenever possible."

Guest artist for the afternoon was Floyd Brehm ,bass soloist of the Old Beger Church of Jersey City, who was accompanied by Hazel James Ferguson.

The Drama section of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. J Milton Steinberger Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Father Sage Says: When the man reads the funnies while the woman smokes a cigarette, they're married.

Arcadia Soon To Have Curfew Law; One Here Passed Up

Reviving the ancient custom of a 9 p.m. curfew, the Arcadia council recently had its first reading of a proposed curfew ordinance that would keep children under 16 off the streets unless accompanied by an adult. Parents and children would be held equally liable for violations.

Although Sierra Madre has a curfew ordinance which reads ". . it is hereby made unlawful for any minor or minors under the age of 16 years to loiter, congregate or be upon any public street, lane, alley, sidewalk or place, between 9 p.m. of any day and 5 a.m. of the succeeding day, unless accompanied by and under the care, custody, charge or control of an adult," the sounding of a curfew was discontinued over 15 years ago and is rarely enforced. Violation of the ordinance is a fine not to exceed $50 or imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed 25 days, or both. There is nothing in the ordinance that requires sounding of the curfew.
